You Can Begin Again/You Can Begin Again Too

A faith-based home that focuses on faith, love, and respect, You Can Begin Again, and You Can Begin Again Too Inc. seek to reach young women, 18-25, who lack family, family support, educational preparation, financial resources, or who are young mothers without adequate education, training, or a combination of barriers that prevents them from leading productive, disciplined lives as adults.

This faith-based safe haven will help participants build self-esteem; identify and reach educational goals; acquire job preparation skills; and embrace principles, values, and the hope that motivate individuals not only to become viable members of a community and, in turn, resolve to help others. Participation in the two-year program will facilitate the journey to self-sufficiency and success.
